Ad Infernum Features Key:

HTML5 full game experience (Web browser game version)

- no download required - just click the start button and play. Full HTML5 game engine on every platform allows more freedom than Flash.

Platform independence - It's cross-platform, works on iOS, Android tablets or phones, Windows, OS X

Game for everyone - works in portrait or landscape mode and you're in the game whether you have an iPhone, iPad or Android.

Gameplay Help:

- A bit more rigid - this game isn't as freestyle as Magic Hunter or Capture the Flag. There are more items to shoot but also fewer.
- Faster! - every level is shorter but it's harder. The big gun fires faster and so do the bigger targets.
- Collectibles - collect all six pieces and unlock the "Invisible" which improves the game from ahead to behind. You'll also need to collect all three loot containers to collect a big reward with a level editor (coming soon).
- Sticker-based score system - you got what you got. The bigger you are, the more points. Every weapon changes its shot pattern and this results in different scores. It's fun. Plus you'll get loads of them.

What's new:

” is a glorious gathering of pop, hair metal, country and industrial dance. Being able to say you’re going to be on the bill with Black Flag and The Misfits would be a pleasant to have, if the side of the stage was a smoldering open pit and lava was oozing and flowing from the stage floor. The band went out on a high note. Yes, “Heretic” was almost better than the rest of the show. I can’t help but think if December means more real metal events, then the next few months will be a fun age for the heavy metal world. Maybe in the Spring we’ll have both Slayer and Motorhead touring South America together! I’m not saying this is, would not say this is, but it’s a wild idea that I’d like to see the metal world get. Catch a show, buy from the merch table or shop Atlas Obscura on our bandcamp. You can also show your support of the rock band “Unholy Gospel” by liking them on Facebook. Thanks for reading and go bring home some metal!
